A World of Discovery

AHI Connects | Anogia Tour. Set off to this pretty mountain village on Mount Ida, or Psiloritis, Crete's highest mountain. Known for its handwoven textiles, Anogia offers a glimpse into traditional life on Crete. Take in the village's warm ambience, then head to a mountaintop where you'll see a recreation of a shepherd's house and enjoy lunch cooked over an open fire (weather permitting).

Athens City Tour. Explore the birthplace of democracy and Western philosophy, theater and architecture. See top sites including Athens Academy, the University of Athens and the National Library. Ascend the Acropolis and admire the classical lines of the Parthenon. At the Acropolis Museum, view splendid artifacts from the Acropolis' slopes and study the ruins of an ancient neighborhood through a glass floor. (Active)

Knossos. Gain insights on ancient Minoan life, which flourished during the Bronze Age, on a guided tour of the grand Knossos Palace and other ruins. Visit the Heraklion Archaeological Museum later and study the mysterious Phaistos Disk, a Minoan clay disk never fully decoded and much debated.

Heraklion Tour. Walk down the picturesque streets of the old town of Iraklio, passing taverns and historic churches, including Agios Titos, the city's oldest church. Admire the 16th-century Venetian Fortress of Koules at the entrance of the colorful harbor.

Southern Crete. Travel to Crete's serene south coast and hang out in Matala, a little beach town with a bohemian vibe. Spend free time exploring or enjoying a swim. Later, an expert guide leads you on a tour of the fascinating ruins of Phaistos, the most influential Minoan city in southern Crete.

Santorini. Board a high-speed ferry to the celebrated isle of Santorini. See the scenic village of Oia, perched on a volcanic caldera, and sample wines at an island winery.

Spinalonga Island. Cross Mirabello Bay by boat to Spinalonga Island. A military outpost during Venetian rule, it later served as a leper colony from 1903 to 1957. Delve into its poignant history on a private tour. (Active)

Arolithos. Tour a recreation of a traditional Cretan village before learning how to prepare authentic Cretan dishes at a cooking class. Then, it's time to dig into your tasty creations!

Chania Tour. After visiting the Chania Archaeological Museum, explore the life of Eleftherios Venizelos, a Cretan instrumental in the founding of modern Greece, at his former home, now a museum. Walk later in Chania's atmospheric old town lined with Venetian, Ottoman and traditional façades.

Ancient Olives & Olive Oil. Your exploration of western Crete takes you to Vouves village. Marvel at the gnarled trunk of one of the world's oldest olive trees, estimated to be over 3,000 years old. Explore the process of olive cultivation and olive oil production at the nearby Olive Tree Museum of Vouves.
