Featuring Elizabeth Colantoni, Associate Professor of Classics

UNIVERSITY of ROCHESTER

Elizabeth Colantoni is an Associate Professor of Classics in the Department of Religion and Classics at the University of Rochester, and she teaches in the University's Program in Archaeology, Technology, and Historical Structures. She is an archaeologist, and her research is focused on the ancient Mediterranean world, particularly Italy in the time before and during the Roman Empire. She regularly teaches courses on Greek and Roman archaeology, archaeological and museum ethics, and ancient Roman religion as well as Latin language courses. She has, since 2007, been taking students to Italy to participate firsthand in archaeological excavations there. In 2025 and 2026 she will be taking Rochester students to excavate at Trebula Mutuesca (near modern Monteleone Sabino, Rieti, Italy), a settlement that thrived during the Roman period and is noted today particularly for the remains of its ancient amphitheater and sanctuary to the Italic goddess Feronia.

Dear University of Rochester alumni and friends,

Experience the best of Croatia on this extraordinary 10-night adventure! Soak up absolute serenity aboard your first-class yacht while sailing the Dalmatian Coast, a region celebrated for its natural beauty and timeless charms. Plus, enjoy a stay in Zagreb!

Embark in Dubrovnik and spend seven unforgettable nights cruising the Adriatic! Sailing in an intimately sized yacht is the ideal way to visit Croatia's islands and ports. Your small cruise ship can reach tiny islets, ports and remote harbors that larger vessels cannot, allowing you access to some of Croatia's most spectacular destinations. By day, glide from one island to another, explore delightful towns and enjoy opportunities to swim, snorkel and sunbathe (weather dependent). Thoughtfully planned excursions introduce you to lauded sights and ancient ruins, local culture and natural wonders. By night, indulge in local gastronomic delights and fall asleep to the gentle rhythm of the sea. The adventure concludes with three nights in buzzing Zagreb, a capital city full of life and historical landmarks.

Professor Elizabeth Colantoni of the Department of Religion and Classics will accompany the tour to share her insights into the ancient Mediterranean world. We expect this tour to fill quickly, so your early reservations are encouraged.
